DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-20, drawn to an apparatus for micromachining a substrate, classified in class 422, subclass 186.05 or 244.
- II. Claims 21-24, 42-44, 51-52, and 54, drawn to a method of processing a semiconductor substrate, classified in class 438, subclass 463.
- III. Claims 25-41 and 45-50, drawn to a method for laser processing, classified in class 216, subclass 65.
- IV. Claim 53, drawn to a computer readable media, classified in class 360, subclass 131.

2. The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions I-III and IV are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions the inventions have different modes of operation and functions, in that one is an operation with means for performing a process and another is a computer readable media with instructions. The inventions also have different effects because one is computer readable and one is not.

Inventions I and II-III are related as process and apparatus for its practice. The inventions are distinct if it can be shown that either: (1) the process as claimed can be practiced by another materially different apparatus or by hand, or (2) the apparatus as claimed can be used to practice another and materially different process. (MPEP § 806.05(e)). In this case the apparatus as claimed could be used to practice another materially different process, such as a processes for depositing a plasma or gas onto a support. The processes as claimed could also be performed by a materially different apparatus, such as an apparatus with focusing means for a laser.

Inventions II and III are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions have different effects because one affects a semiconductor and the other does not. They also have different modes of operation and functions because one operates and functions with a semiconductor and one with a substrate.

3. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above, have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, and the search required for Groups I-IV is not required for Groups IV-I, respectively, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

4. A telephone call was made to Paul Mitchell on 11/21/03 to request an oral election to the above restriction requirement, but did not result in an election being made.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

5. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

6. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Edward M. Johnson whose telephone number is 703-305-0216. The examiner can normally be reached on M-F 6:30-4:00.
